WAR TO LEAVE
MANY EFFECTSDruggists Fear a Famine in Many Toilet Articles

There are a multiplicity of examples of the effects of the European war on trade in the United States. It affects every business and some of the more common articles of household use may be more difficult to obtain within a few months than even diamonds or radium.

The drug trade, for example, is threatened seriously. There are no many common chemicals, absolutely essential to the drug business, that are manufactured in Germany, that the pharmacy business may be crippled within a short time. The seriousness of this is apparent readily because without these chemicals the compounding of prescriptions may be impossible.

The drug trade suffers also in other ways. Take such a common article of commerce as the toothbrush. It is made of pig's bristles but the hog of commerce in the United States does not provide the proper quality. The bristles for the American toothbrush come almost without exception from the hide of the Russian bear.

The American hog has come through a refining process, no reference to hard being intended, that has softened his stout hair to an extent that makes it useless for the application of dental dentures. It is only the Russian bear that runs wild on his native heath, or at least lives in a state of semi-civilization, that provides bristles sufficiently long and tough for the purpose. Tough tufts are necessary for teeth.

The druggists will also have to suffer a falling off in their trade with amateur photographers. The chemicals used in the various photographic processes are all imported from Europe and this importation has been shut off.

Of course, the tooth brush famine is one of the most serious, if it may be averted to again. As a matter of fact the possibilities are startling. Where now everyone in the family owns a toothbrush it is not at all unlikely that a family toothbrush will be the only solution of the difficulty.

Post Office Orders.
The post office, in common with other post offices of the United States has been instructed that the business of exchanging money orders with Belgium, Egypt and Austria has been shut off entirely.

The only variety of this is in the cases of Americans stranded in European countries. Post offices may accept money for orders to be delivered to them in sums not exceeding $100. The purpose of this is to shut off any possibility of sending money to Europe for purposes of speculation.

The post office department will attempt to get money orders for relief through to all European countries but holds out no hope of being able to deliver them in the three countries named.

This cessation of money order business is a hardship on many foreigners employed in the copper country. The hardship comes from their being unable to make their monthly remittances to friends at home. The Houghton postoffice has done a big money order business with England, Austria-Hungary and Russia, through miners who have sent regular monthly remittances. This business has been shut off entirely.

TWO WOMEN
AVOID

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Chicago, Ill.—"I must thank you with all my heart for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I used to go to my doctor for pills and remedies and they did not help me. I had headaches and could not eat, and the doctor claimed I had female trouble and must have an operation. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have taken it and feel fine. A lady said one day, 'Oh, I feel so tired all the time and have headaches.' I said, 'Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound,' and she did and feels fine now."—Mrs. M. R. KARSCHNER, 1438 N. Paulina Street, Chicago, Illinois.

The Other Case.
Dayton, Ohio.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound relieved me of pains in my side that I had for years and which doctors' medicines failed to relieve. It has certainly saved me from an operation. I will be glad to assist you by a personal letter to any woman in the same condition."—Mrs. J. W. SHERRILL, 123 Cass St., Dayton, Ohio.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

WILL NOT LEAVE LAKES.

Ships Not to Try to Transport Freight on Ocean.

Few ships, if any, will leave the lakes to carry freight on the Atlantic, according to Capt. J. C. Thomas of the Anchor line, formerly of Houghton and now of Milwaukee. Efforts have been made to secure lake ships to carry the great amount of freight which is accumulating at Atlantic ports, but few ships are available for such service.

"Engines and boilers of lake ships would have to be rearranged for ocean service," said Capt. Thomas, of the Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin. "Only the smaller vessels could get through the Welland canal."

"From present indications it looks like a busy fall season for all the lake boats, and I don't think many will go to the Atlantic."

The match tomorrow will be witnessed by a big gallery as it is the important event of the year in the club.

MRS. AMELIA EVANS CALLED.

Death of Estimable Houghton Resident Is Sudden.

Mrs. Amelia Evans died at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at her home on College avenue, East Houghton, of an attack of angina pectoris, with which malady she had suffered for a period of ten days. The end came after a period of cessation that had given her family hope, so that it was a shock that came almost without warning.

Of the members of Mrs. Evans' family there were present at the time of her death her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Wortley; her daughters, Mrs. A. B. Simonson of Calumet and Mrs. Philip Mayerick of Globe, Ariz., and her brother-in-law, W. H. Hosking of Los Angeles, California.

Mrs. Evans was 64 years of age and always had led an active life. The latter years were spent in the enjoyment of her beautiful East Houghton home, where she devoted her energies to a garden that is one of the attractive parts of that beautiful residential district. She continued her activities in her garden until within a few days of her death.

Born in Pottstown, Pa., daughter of James Walls, who was an early Pennsylvania miner, Mrs. Evans was brought by her parents to Copper Harbor, Keweenaw county, when she was 12 years of age. Captain John Uren, a pioneer merchant and mining man of Keweenaw county, was her mother's brother and Mr. Walls came to the district at Captain Uren's invitation because his fortune had been impaired by the civil war.

Mrs. Evans was reared in the copper country and while still a young girl became the wife of William J. Evans, in 1856, while he was agent for the Franklin Mining company. Mr. Evans moved with his family to Great Falls, Mont., 21 years ago and took charge of the smelting operations for the Amalgamated.

While Mr. Evans was connected with milling and smelting during the greater part of his life he was best known as the inventor of the Evans concentrating table, a device still in use to some extent in the Michigan copper country.

Mrs. Evans was looked upon by her many friends throughout the copper country as a model mother, a woman of generous impulses and one whose every act and example was toward the highest ideals. Her death is regretted by very many who enjoyed even the slightest acquaintance.

The following members of Mrs. Evans' immediate family survive: Mrs. A. B. Simonson, Calumet; Thomas Evans, Calgary, Alta.; George Evans, Great Falls, Mont.; Carl W. Evans, Hayden, Ariz.; Howard Evans, Los Angeles, Cal.; Mrs. Howard Altemus, Palatka, Mich.; Mrs. Philip Mayerick, Globe, Ariz.

The following brothers and sisters also survive: Mrs. Elizabeth Wortley, Houghton; Mrs. W. H. Hosking, Los Angeles, Cal.; Mrs. Stephen Carkeek, Pasadena, Cal.; John Walls, Cheyenne, Wyo.

CREDIT BUREAU ORGANIZER.

Commercial Club Secures Service of S. J. Nester of Toledo, O.

S. J. Nester of Toledo, O., manager of the Merchants' Credit and Adjustment company of that city, has arrived in Houghton to lend his assistance to Secretary Price of the Copper Country Commercial club in the organization of a Merchants' Credit bureau for the copper country, including at least Houghton and Keweenaw counties.

Mr. Nester is a former Lake Linden boy and has been visiting at his old home for a few days before taking up the work he began yesterday. He is here only to give the new bureau for a few days the benefit of his experience as manager of the flourishing concern in Toledo.

The Merchants' Credit bureau is an organization fostered by the Copper Country Commercial club for the purpose of permitting merchants of the copper country to interchange information as to the ratings of customers. It is in plain English an anti-dead beat organization.

The bureau will be operated from the commercial club office in Houghton but will have no connection, other than a moral one, with the latter organization.

OBSERVE LABOR
DAY AT BARAGAHancock Tradesmen to Unite With Sawmill Townspeople

There will be no celebration on Labor day in Hancock this year but the Trades & Labor council, composed of the different labor organizations in the district, will go to Baraga by special train for the day. In the sawmill town the Longshoremen will have a monster celebration and the local unions will lend their numbers toward making the observance the biggest of its kind in the upper peninsula.

A special train will carry the copper country delegation to Baraga, leaving here about eight o'clock in the morning so as to take part in the parade, which will feature the opening of the festivities. The Quincy and Lake Linden bands will be taken along to help make the affair all the more festive. The Quincy and Lake Linden bands will be taken along to help make the affair all the more festive. The Quincy and Lake Linden bands will be taken along to help make the affair all the more festive.

This will have been the first year in the history of the Trades & Labor council that Labor day has been permitted to pass without a local celebration. It has been customary to alternate in having the celebration in Houghton one year and in Hancock the next.

The L. L. A. Baraga has arranged for the entertainment of several hundred visitors on Labor day and a large sum of money has been appropriated for decorations and athletic contests. There will be a baseball game, foot races, tug-of-war and other events to help feature the celebration.

FOOTBALL SCHEDULES HERE.

Local Students Receive Copies of U. of M. List of Games.

Hancock students attending the university of Michigan have received copies of the 1914 football schedule of games to be played by Michigan this year. The season opens at Ann Arbor October 10 against Vanderbilt and the real big game of the season takes place at Cambridge October 31 with Harvard. Special trains are to take several hundred Michigan students and alumni of the university east for this game. A number of Hancock people that graduated from Michigan had partly arranged to witness the Harvard-Michigan game but on account of present conditions these plans undoubtedly will be changed.

Coach Yost will have only four veterans available for this game: Huchitt at quarter, Galt at right half, Lyons at right end and Captain Ramsford at right tackle. The loss of Craig, Patterson, Pontius, Allmendinger, Torbet, Musser and Traphagen is severe, but there are many promising players among the all-fresh and reserve men. Candidates have been ordered to report at Perry field September 7 for four weeks' practice. Cochran of Houghton and Norton of Ontonagon are two copper country men who will try for places on the team.

DEFER BONDING ISSUE.

New High School Project Not to be Presented This Year.

Until conditions again become normal it is unlikely that the Hancock board of education will ask the electors of the city to pass on the question of bonding for a new high school. The issue was to have been submitted this fall but the board has taken no step that would indicate the subject will be placed before the voters this year.

Two bonding propositions were to have been voted upon this fall, the school issue and another to raise money for the construction of a direct pipe line from the pumping station to

ECZEMA ON CHILD'S BODY

Began as Rash. Itched so Had to Hold His Hands While Sleeping. Clothing Irritated Trouble. Face and Scalp Covered. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Healed.

570 High St., Oshkosh, Wis.—"When about two months old my nephew had some break out on different parts of his body.

The trouble first began as a rash which itched so at night someone always held his hands even while sleeping as at the least scratching it would run together and form scales. His night-clothes had to have mittens on them or the scales would be raw and bleeding by morning. His clothing or the least friction irritated the trouble. His face and scalp were covered. They called it eczema.

"We tried different treatments but none cured him. At three years old we commenced the use of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. We could see an improvement after the first month's treatment. It took nearly a year to effect a complete cure and he never had anything like it since." (Signed) Mrs. F. Scofield, Mar. 21, 1914.

GUARD AGAINST BURGLARY.

Night Force to Keep Close Watch on All Suspicious Characters.

Stringent means have been adopted by the police department to guard against the invasion of gangs of thieves, which now threaten this as well as other towns in the copper country. Thrown out of work because of the European war and with no funds for subsistence regular armies of men are moving about the country and sections of this horde are possible visitors to this district almost any day.

The action of the local police closely follows steps taken by other cities to protect its residents from the visits of night prowlers. The public is warned against leaving their homes unlocked during the day unless some member of the family remains to protect the property. People are likely to rush from their homes in case the fire alarm is sounded and it is on occasions of this kind that burglars do their best and speediest work.

WANTS BOUT WITH ALLARD.

Caponi Seeking Match With Former Copper Country Boxer.

The manager of Tony Caponi is seeking a match with Arthur Allard in the copper country. Caponi's manager claims the big Italian is the logical claimant of the middleweight championship of the world, a crown which has been in dispute since the murder of Stanley Ketchell.

Articles for a boat between Caponi and Allard were signed several months ago, the go to be pulled off in this city. At the last moment the show was called off and since that time the boxing promoters have not been successful in bringing the men together.

Promoters will now write to Allard who is in Montana, asking him if he is willing to meet Caponi. An answer is expected the latter part of the coming week. The promoters have made Allard an offer but do not know whether he will accept.
